No Prestige Plates Issued in County

Although several persons have picked up application forms for special "prestige" license plates, to date, none have been issued in this county, Tax Collector A. J. French said this week

The application forms are mailed to Austin but the plates must be picked up at the tax collector's office of the county in which the motorist lives. These special plates may contain a combination of letters and numbers - not to exceed six in all and cost $10 in addition to the regular license fee. Money derived from this source will be used to help develop Texas.

Grasshoppers Reported in Jones County Fields

Grasshoppers, cutworm, and web worms have been reported in fields of young cotton in Jones County, according to word this week from County Agent, Kirby Clayton. The hoppers have been damaging the young cotton in the Stamford area and may be a threat to other areas, says Clayton.

Where grasshoppers are a threat, Clayton recommends spraying the turn rows with Toxaphene, Chlordane, Aldrin, Heptachlor, Dieldrin, Malathion, or Sevin. Use according to directions on the container and do not spray where livestock can graze the area Where jumbo hoppers are a bran or 1 Toxaphene or Chlordane in 100 lbs. of bran, 1-2 gal molasses and enought water to make a thick paste. Put bait out under young cotton at end of cotton rows at the rate of 10- 20 lbs. per acre in little piles.

For cutworms, army worms and web worms spray with Toxaphene, DDT, Endrin, or Strohone-DDT mixture. For further information, call your county agent.

C. A. Morris Expects This Year's Cattleman's Roundup to Be Best

C. A. Morris, serving his third year as general chair-Roundup for Crippled Children, has predicted that this year's drive should be the most successful in the history of the roundup.

Cattlemen's Roundup was inaugurated several years ago by cattlemen of the Southto provide operating funds for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. Since then the drive has been extended over all of Texas and some cattle have been donated by ranches in New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma.

"Last year's drive, made under the worst of conditions for cattlemen because of the depressed cattle market and poor range conditions, was a Morris said. "But this year we are expecting a record number of cattle since the cattlemen are generally in much better position to provide help this year.

Morris said the cattle industry is the only agriculture related industry that has continued to operate without federal assistance of any kind but that even without federal aid or federal controls, the industry has shown considerable improvement during the past year.

"The industry operates on the law of supply and demand and this year cattlemen have good ranges brought on by excellent weather conditions and the demand is high, so cattle prices have risen substantially," he said

Some cattle already are being promised for the roundup, which will be climaxed in late September when the annual for the Cattlemen's sale is held, Morris said. Ranchers who have promised donations so far this year have "extremely generous, he said, which indicates the sale should break all records.

"Cattlemen throughout the and again they are ready and willing to provide help to a worthwhile cause," he said, And they are convinced that the West Texas Rehabilitation Center is an outstanding

County Commissioners to Sit As Board of Adjustment June 24, 25

Members of the Jones County Commissioners Court will sit as board of adjustment on Thursday and Friday, June 24 and 25, and will have a representative of McMorries and Co. sit with them to hear valuation appeals.

The McMorries Company last year completed a valuation survey of the entire county and valuations were increased in many instances. The county is assessing at 20 per cent of the value set in the survey at a rate of cents per $700.

Some 100 tracts of land have been rendered at values lower than those set in the survey and owners of these pieces of property have been cited to appear before the board to present their plea.

Thursday of this week, the court was to hear oil and gas renditions and those from utilities companies and railroads No indication has been received by the county as to the amount oil valuations will be reduced this year. Pritchett and Abbott handle this work for the county.

The following recommendations concern practices which will reduce the overwintered weevil population. If all farmers in a weevil infested area follow these steps the overwintered weevil population can be greatly reduced.

1. Dessicate or defoliate the crop as soon as the cotton has reached the proper stage.

2. Add a phosphate insecticide such as Guthion or methylparathion to the dessicant of defoliant. (Do not add phosphate insecticides to chlorate defoliants and or dessicants). 3. Harvest cotton as soon as possible 4. Destroy stalks immediately after harvest to prevent

When cotton is dessicated, the boll weevil's food supply is destroyed. The addition of an insecticide to the harvestaid chemical provides a quick kill, preventing weevil movement from the dessicated field into other fields. Stalk destruction immediately after harvest will prevent the cotton from regrowing and supplying food for weevils. These practices force the boll weevil into starvation before time to enter winter quarters, prevent late season buildup of weevils and bollworms, and reduce the over-wintered population. At four miles elevation the atmospheric pressure is but one-half of that at sea level.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

@Coleman Adv. Ser.,

Any mother can tell about a child's love for her doll, and the world of PRETEND that they live in. They confide in the doll, reprimand them, and care for them.

The church is a real and true friend. The church may be counted on in times of need, in times of trouble, and in times of sorrow: The church also wants to share in your times of joy.

"A friend loveth at all times.

Molden gelatin salads need not to come out watery after freezing and thawing, says Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration

To avoid this, simply use one-fourth less liquid than usual When using lemon-flavored gelatin, for instance use 1 1-2 cups water instead of the 2 cups recommended on the label. Our children pioneers?

Take a thoughtful look into the future. This much is clear: Whether today's youngster moves out onto the frontiers of space or the ocean depths; whether he helps push to new horizons of medicine. law, farming or international relations, the future belongs to the fit. The future belongs to those vigorous enough to live it, and shape it!

Medical authorities put it this way: 1 "It is a tragic waste to highly educate the minds of our children, and neglect the physical conditioning that can help them participate in the future to the full extent cl their abilities."

Warnings like this have sparked action. The President's Council on Physical Fitness has developed programs that any school can initiate, regardless of limitations in facilities or budget. We're making progress. Yet even today, less than half our school children get the daily minimum of vigorous exercise they need for adequate physical development.

How about your schools? Are they providing for physical fitness as part of the sound education your children need to carve out their share of the future? You parents can help see that they do. Write: The President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington, D.C., for information.

WEEVIL

The following recommendations concern practices which will reduce the overwintered weevil population. If all farmers in a weevil infested area follow these steps the overwintered weevil population can be greatly reduced.

1. Dessicate or defoliate the crop as soon as the cotton has reached the proper stage.

2. Add a phosphate insecticide such as Guthion or methylparathion to the dessicant of defoliant. (Do not add phosphate insecticides to chlorate defoliants and or dessicants). 3. Harvest cotton as soon as

4. Destroy stalks immediately after harvest to prevent

When cotton is dessicated, the boll weevil's food supply is destroyed. The addition of an insecticide to the harvestaid chemical provides a quick kill, preventing weevil movement from the dessicated field into other fields. Stalk destruction immediately after harvest will prevent the cotton from regrowing and supplying food for weevils. These practices force the boll weevil into starvation before time to enter winter quarters, prevent late season buildup of weevils and bollworms, and reduce the over-wintered population.

At four miles elevation the atmospheric pressure is but one-half of that at sea level.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Molden Gelatin Salad Hints

Molden gelatin salads need not to come out watery after freezing and thawing, says Mrs. Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration

To avoid this, simply use one-fourth less liquid than usual When using lemon-flavored gelatin, for instance use 1 1-2 cups water instead of the 2 cups recommended on the label. Not only will you avoid weeping salads, but the celery in them will also stay crisp. The research on th molden gelatin salads was done recently by food specialists at the New Jersey Agricultral Experiment Station.

Our children pioneers?

Take a thoughtful look into the future. This much is clear: Whether today's youngster moves out onto the frontiers of space or the ocean depths; whether he helps push to new horizons of medicine, law, farming or international relations, (the future belongs to the fit. The future \ belongs to those vigorous enough to live it, and shape it!

Medical authorities put it this way: \ "It is a tragic waste to highly educate the minds of our children, and neglect the physical conditioning that can help them participate in the future to the full extent of their abilities."

Warnings like this have sparked action. The President's Council on Physical Fitness has developed programs that any school can initiate, regardless of limitations in facilities or budget. We're making progress. Yet even today, less than half our school children get the daily minimum of vigorous exercise they need for adequate physical development.

How about your schools? Are they providing for physical fitness as part of the sound education your children need to carve out their share of the future? You parents can help see that they do. Write: The President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington, D.C., for information.
